

Canada Post Work Stoppage Service Update

October 24, 2018

With the implementation of rotating strikes by the Canadian Union of Postal Workers at Canada Post, our priority will be to serve current customers with the same reliable service they have come to expect.

Please continue to track your shipments and receive the latest information and updates at ups.com. To ensure reliable service, temporary adjustments to our domestic service may be required. To mitigate disturbance to your business, take some time to notify your global suppliers and vendors of the current situation and note that UPS® service will continue as usual throughout most of Canada.

For those looking for an alternate solution

Ship from and to a UPS Access Point® location and receive low rates, that are 55 per cent less on domestic UPS Standard® and 45 per cent less on all other domestic services, than our posted daily rates, when you process your shipment online at ups.com/readynow.
