

UPS delivers overnight by 8:00 a.m. to more ZIP Codes than FedEx.

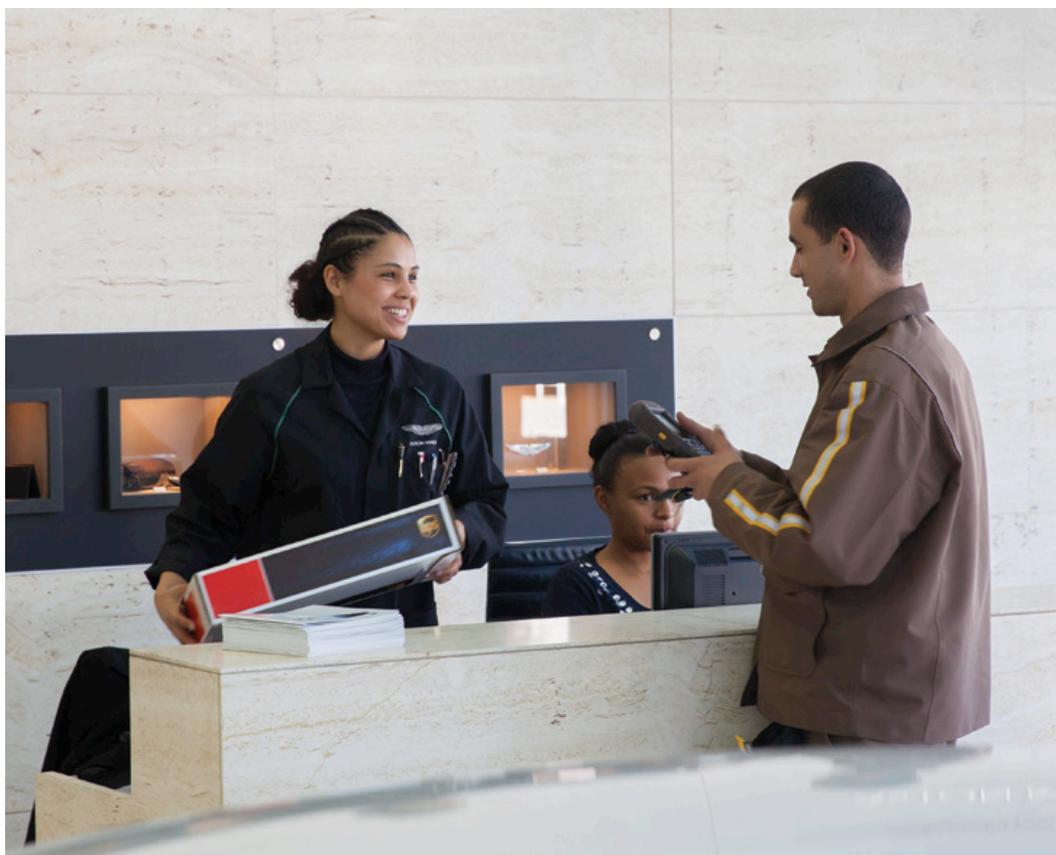

When you have urgent documents requiring a client signature, a midday delivery just won't do. That's why we recently expanded the number of locations for our early morning, next-day deliveries — helping your clients avoid the waiting game and giving your firm a true competitive advantage.

We also deliver to more ZIP Codes and U.S. businesses next day by 8:30 and 10:30 a.m. So whatever your needs, you're able to reach more locations earlier than FedEx.

Time is always an issue, so rely on us to help you reach more ZIP Codes earlier. Serving more of your clients earlier. It's just one more way we're helping make your business better.

The earlier, the better

With express services from UPS, you have the power to get the time-sensitive documents and packages that drive your firm's business to more places earlier than FedEx. And with multiple access points, late drop-offs are never a problem. Plus, we supply you with the value-added services you need to be confident and flexible, including delivery confirmation and late pickup times. Whether you need it there before the start of business, end of day or any time in between, count on us to deliver for you and your clients.
