IX. PACKAGE RELEASE CODE. Shippers selecting Ship to a UPS Access Point™ Location Accessorial can elect to apply the Package release code option to provide a more flexible delivery experience. A Package release code is a 4-6 digit numerical code. Solely the shipper is responsible for generating, recording, and transmitting the Package release code to the consignee. When using the Package release code option, the shipper must also supply UPS with the Package release code. When the consignee arrives at the UPS Access Point location to claim their package, they must present the same code, which will be systemically validated. Any customer who presents the correct Package release code may claim the package. UPS cannot provide the Package release code to the shipper or consignee at any time and is not responsible to the shipper or consignee for any loss, including but not limited to loss, theft, alteration of, unauthorized access to, or acquisition of, the Package release code, or other security breach, compromise, or incident involving the Package release code, whether by third parties or otherwise, arising out of or resulting from misuse or impairment of the Package release code. There is no additional fee for this service.
